Yes, let's keep the resource chart in. Wasn't even thinking about it when I was doing the highlighting. Sorry for the confusion.

Craig,

I removed the resources chart as that information was not highlighted in your email from 12/4/2019 7:29 pm. I included the number of EPA personnel in the field in a bullet. I will include the chart in today's update if you would like.

Thanks,

Thanks Anish. Since it looks like things are now really starting to get under control, what's the strategy for closing out lines of reporting? Specifically, what's the plan to close out reporting on the following:

- air monitoring/sampling including ASPECT
- water sampling
- product/oil recovery
- shoreline clean-up
- asbestos
- waste disposal

I believe the key, from a reporting perspective, is to stop any "continuing to" bullets and move to definitive information e.g. "...will be completed by..."

Also, why did we drop our resource chart at the end of the this update?
